

SECURITY DEPOSITS

General Provisions:

The following provisions apply to security deposits for all customer classes. (Provisions that apply to specific customer classes such as residential, small general power, etc. are addressed later in this policy).

1. Deposit policies will be applied without regard to race, color, creed, sex, age, handicapped status, national origin, or marital status.
2. Record of Deposits – The Cooperative will maintain a record of all deposits received from members, showing the name of each member, the address of the premises for which the deposit is maintained, the date and amount of deposit, and the date and amount of any interest paid.

Whenever a security deposit is accepted, the Cooperative will issue to the member a non-assignable receipt containing the following minimum information:

- 1) Name of member
 - 2) Date of deposit
 - 3) Amount of deposit
 - 4) Cooperative name and address, signature and title of the Cooperative employee receiving deposit.
3. Interest on Deposits – All cash deposits larger than one month's average bill calculated annually by class of service shall accrue interest (interest rate may be changed periodically) and be applied to the account annually.
 4. All security deposits shall be in addition to the regular membership fee.
 5. The policy in no way applies to the collection of deposits to secure the cost of new construction.

Residential:

1. A deposit of suitable guarantee may be required of any applicant before electric service is supplied or reconnected following disconnection for non-payment. The purpose of this deposit is to partially protect the assets of VEC member-owners in the event that an individual customer defaults on his financial obligation to the Cooperative.

2. Amount of Deposit -

VEC will determine the amount of deposit utilizing a VEC-approved credit rating agency. The amount will be based on the customer's delinquency risk. This risk is calculated using nationally available data including, but not limited to, the customer's credit score, delinquencies with other utility companies, and credit history. Based on this calculation, the customer will be classified in one of three risk categories:

| Category | Deposit Required |
|-----------------|---|
| Low Risk | No deposit required |
| Medium Risk | $200 or the amount equivalent to one month of electric usage (if prior usage can be calculated for the account), whichever is greater |
| High Risk | $250 or the amount equivalent to two months of electric usage (if prior usage can be calculated for the account), whichever is greater |

This deposit policy will apply to new services, new accounts, and new meter locations as well as existing services and accounts with new occupants.

3. Refunds - The member must have an acceptable VEC credit history in order for the deposit to be refunded. After thirty-six (36) months of continuous service, the member's deposit will be applied to the member's account if the member has had no adverse credit events at VEC (penalties, payments returned for insufficient funds, meter tampering, late notices, etc.).
